Frequently Asked Questions

What do the different colored bars mean?

Each week Goodwill stores feature a different colored barb or price tag. This means that any items with the featured color are 50% off their marked price. For example, a shirt with a yellow barb normally runs $4.99. If the color of the week is yellow, this means you get the shirt for only $2.50. Be sure to look for the color barb that is 50% off so you can maximize your purchase!

How often does Goodwill receive new items?

Every day! Each Goodwill store adds close to 10,000 items each week to the sales floor, making it important to shop often to get the best deals!

How do I donate items to Goodwill?

One of the great features of Goodwill is that each store doubles as a donation center. Some stores even have donation "drive-thrus!" These handy facilities allow a donor to pull right up to the store with his or her donation and a Goodwill staff member will assist in taking the donation and writing a tax exempt slip. Many shoppers are also donors, making Goodwill a great place for one stop shopping!
